

DMAT FL3 PERSONAL EQUIPMENT LIST

Personal Equipment List

The National Disaster Medical System is a joint partnership between the following administration and departments.

- Federal Emergency Management Administration
- Department of Veterans Affairs
- Department of Defense
- Department of Health and Human Services,

While the Department of Health and Human Services at the present time can not recommend nor mandate obtaining the necessary items for deployment, it is understood that the inability to obtain the necessary items for personal sustainability may limit deployment eligibility.

In advanced preparation for a deployment (typically, two weeks), it is recommended that you consider the items that are listed as they are provided to you based on practical needs, input from other response teams and past deployment experiences. As the federal caches are being regionalized, your response team may not have the benefit of being aligned with a cache in transit and therefore, will not be able to draw upon its resources for support.

To further assist you in preparation, it would be helpful for you to understand the basic three bag system.

The “Transit Bag”, “Ready Bag” and the “Main Gear Bag”, are the three bags that are being proposed for your deployment system. Both the Transit and the Ready Bag” (i.e, ALICE pack, Backpack, etc.) must remain with you, at all times.

The “Transit Bag” will be used to facilitate easier access to commonly used items. The “Ready Bag” will contain the items necessary to support yourself for a minimum of 72 hours.

The “Main Gear Bag” (Duffle bag or similar system) will contain your additional support items for the remaining two weeks. Be aware that the “Main Gear Bag” may not be accessible after stowage for air or ground transport.

- REMEMBER to Stow all Sharps (i.e. Scissors/Foldable Knife)

Remember!

- Be prepared and anticipate the worst.
- If you cannot afford to lose it.... don't bring it.

BE ADVISED

While these items are available in the Basic Load (cache), this equipment may not be available to you if you are not initially aligned with a cache.

- * Hearing Protection
- * Eye protection (Goggles)
- * Head lamp / Batteries
- * Sleeping bag
- * Mosquito netting & cot

DOG Tags (Member Supplied)

SMITH, JOE 999-99-9999 Religion Blood Type

Review NDMS uniform guideline.

- Need to obtain a set of dog tags.
- If you have a diagnosis/allergy that requires notification, you can either engrave a separate dog tag (RED) or attach an Alert tag to the dog tag chain. In addition, you must have an emergency card with you at all times.
- Do not add any additional information to the dog tag.
- May consider purchasing dog tag “silencers” to silence the noise of the two dog tags hitting each other.
